rubyQ
CGP-201

Silvio Mogno's rubyQ features all of the gameplay of the original cube-hopping arcade classic, but adds many extras including: two-player cooperative play, "Funky" and "Mad" modes which add new enemies and challenges, five difficulty settings, AtariVox support for in-game voices and high score saving, and more!

Star Castle Arcade
CGP-202

Chris Walton, Thomas Jentzsch and Ivan Machado team up to bring this legendary coin-op home to the Atari 2600. Blast away at the Star Castle's shields to take your shot at destroying its core. Star Castle Arcade features arcade-like gameplay, multiple difficulty settings and on-cart high score saving (no SaveKey required).

Juno First
CGP-203

Chris Walton's best-selling homebrew features all of the frenetic action of the arcade original. Destroy wave after wave of the attacking enemy fleet, capture alien astronauts and blast your way through hyperspace for maximum points! Juno First features AtariVox support for in-game voices and high score saving.

The End
CGP-204

Carlos Centeno brings home this arcade classic, where you must stop space bandits from stealing pieces of your defense bases and using them to craft a sinister message of doom for humanity! The End features options to play both the original Konami version and the Stern variant.

Stratovox
CGP-205

Carlos Centeno captures all of the action of the first arcade game to feature voices! In Stratovox, you must prevent alien attackers from kidnapping stranded astronauts. As the aliens become more numerous and aggressive, how many astronauts will you be able to save? Stratovox features AtariVox support for in-game voices and high score saving.
